The city council will hold a public hearing on the Fenton Plaza gas pumps on Monday evening, 8:00 o'clock, City Hall.

The planning commission on February 3 approved the pumps as an accessory use for the parking facility planned by Leslie C. Fenton at Mission and Seventh Streets.

Mrs. Mary Goold, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leidig and Dale Leidig have appealed this decision to the council through their attorneys.

Last year the council overrode a similar commission approval of Plaza pumps.

A lively time is anticipated.

Walking to work this morning we noticed four pines which the street department has recently planted on Mission Street near Sunset School playfield. Some Pine Cone issues ago, we passed on Francis Whitaker's complaint that the street department plants pines in rigid rows instead of "staggering" them.

The street department, intentionally or not, has deprived Council Candidate Whitaker of one campaign issue. These pines are certainly staggered.

And right now Street Superintendent Bill Askew and his crew are depriving Whitaker of another campaign issue. In the process of widening San Carlos Street between Ocean Avenue and Sixth, they have dug up the sidewalk on the east side of the street, and the pine stump. Whitaker has been asking for some time why that stump hasn't been removed.

The new sidewalk will have a chip-stone curb, curve out around the big pine, and "tree-holes" will be left for more pines. The palm, quite a community pet, has not been disturbed.

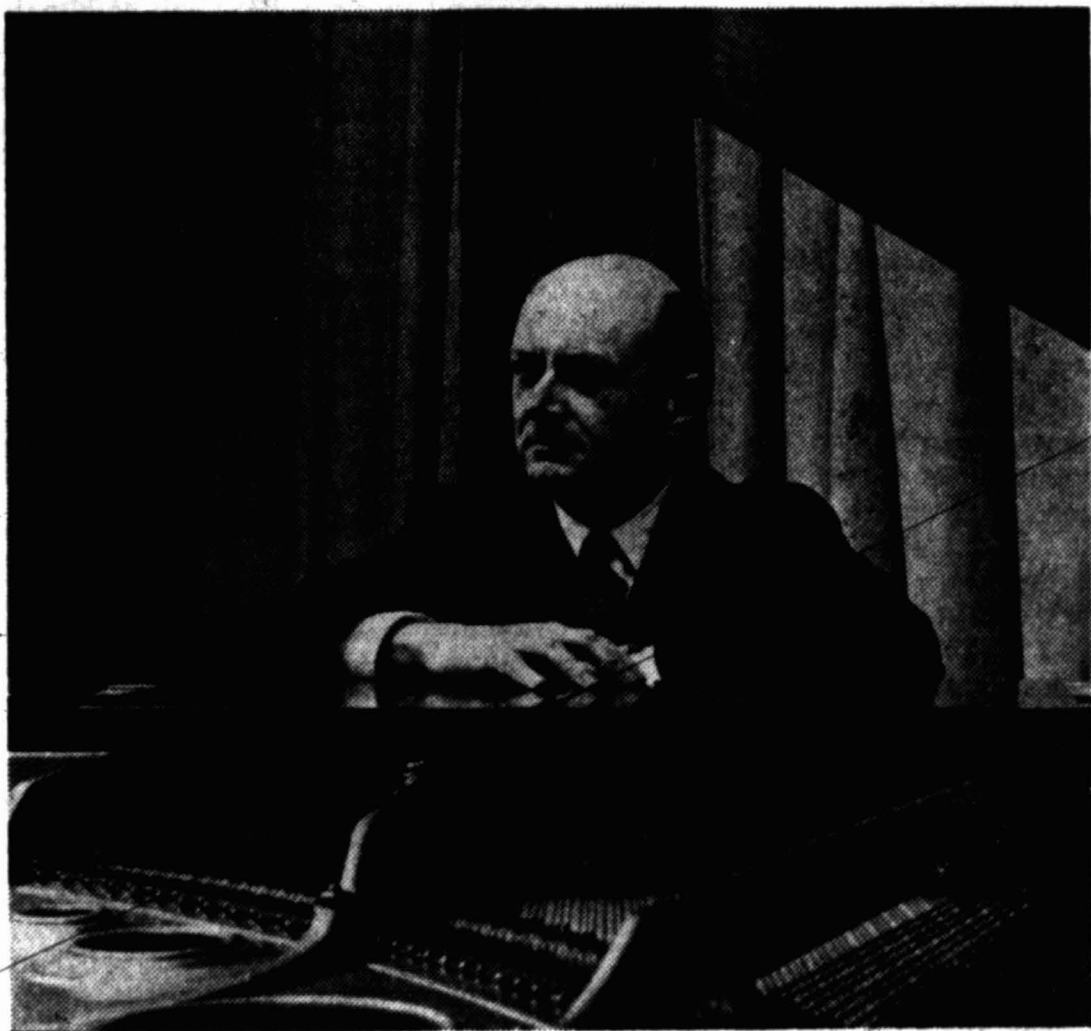

Think we're green belt-minded with our acre minimum building sites for Carmel Valley? Consider what is going on in Bucks County, Pennsylvania. We quote the Bucks County Gazette, February 18.

"About 150 Upper Makefield citizens crowded Monday night's discussion of a proposal to extend two-acre zoning over much of the Township. The Supervisors' public hearing, at first scheduled for the Township Building, had to be moved to the elementary school to accommodate the overflow crowd.

"The proposal, first in Bucks County to call for such large lots over so much of a township, called forth so much comment pro and con that the group, while orderly was unable to discuss all the changes. Thus the Supervisors voted to continue the subject at another hearing to be held in the (Continued on Page Sixteen)

MRS. JIM TOM ARRIVES FROM HONG KONG

Tuesday Mrs. Shekchun Tom joined her husband, Jim Tom, proprietor of Tom's Cafe, after a separation of 25 years. Mrs. Tom has been in Hong Kong for the past four years and before that lived in China about 124 miles inland from Hong Kong. Here to greet her when she arrived were four of her children who had preceded her to the United States. Still in Hong Kong is a married daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom.

"John Lenk arrives in Fairbanks to make his home after a 3,500 mile auto trip in a small car. He reported that he had no trouble and found the Alaska Highway in good condition" . . . Fairbanks Daily News-Miner.

Just before Mr. Lenk left Carmel he gave the following interview to John Upton for the Pine Cone.

BY JOHN UPTON

"If you have musical talent, stay away from the conservatory. They will try to standardize you, and end by taking the edge off your originality."

These unequivocal views were aired in Carmel recently by John Lenk, a retired businessman from Czechoslovakia who has presented half a dozen piano concerts here within the past few months.

Lenk, a jaunty bundle of energy and unflagging optimism, boasts that he has not read music in over 20 years.

"My concerts are made up exclusively of my own compositions," he says. "I usually play several of these—none of which has ever been written down, although I have recorded many on tape—and follow them with on-the-spot improvisations in many styles."

Local audiences and other musicians are of divided opinions as to the qualities of Lenk's creations. Some find in them the nervous dissonances of the modern French composers, while others hear echoes of Chopin and the earlier Slavic romantics. But all agree that he displays an outstanding talent and an unerring ear for musical style.

"I have no favorites," he says. "With the exception of Richard Wagner and the ultra-moderns, I like them all."

"One should not try to compete with the experts in any field these days. You should have a great many widely diversified interests without becoming a slave to any one of them. In this way you can achieve, not brilliance, perhaps, but a high degree of competence in many media."

At 16, Lenk was in Russia as a reporter for a Catholic newspaper. At 17 he lectured in the United States on the rise of Hitler. He has studied music since he was five.

"I was kicked out of music school when I was 15," he recalls with a grin. "Refused to practice."

At one time he studied for a diplomatic career, and was a student of International Law at The Hague. He has a command of eight languages. He speaks English fluently and rapidly, with only (Continued on Page Three)

$500,000 Buy Your Own Apt. House Planned

Brush clearing started this week on the former Phil Wilson property that lies between Camino Del Monte and Mission Street, south of Third, in preparation for construction of a half-million dollar buy your own apartment project.

Three Carmel businessmen have purchased the 29,500 square feet of land from the Phil Wilson estate for $90,000, and are conferring with architects on plans for a 20 to 22 unit, two story apartment house, according to Tony Vasconcellos, one of the owners.

The others are J. O. Handley and Robert M. Connell.

August Nieto is agent for the company. The apartments will be sold to individual owners at prices ranging from $25,000 for studio apartments to $40,000 for larger, two bedroom units.

"There will be a view from everywhere," says Tony Vasconcellos, "and a fireplace in every apartment."

Hundred percent off street parking will be provided with seventy-five percent of it "under cover."

Landscaping will receive special consideration. "We could build 30 units and have sufficient open space to satisfy the ordinance, but we are sacrificing 10 units in the interest of attractive surroundings," Handley told the Pine Cone.

"I believe it is the sort of development that is good for Carmel," Handley observed. "It will increase the tax base and not increase school attendance. These are intended to be retirement apartments. It will not add to congestion since half of the apartment owners will not own cars."

Handley, a builder and building supply dealer, was formerly chairman of the Carmel school board.

Vasconcellos and Connell are partners in the Carmel Glass Company.

High School P-TA Asks Youth Center To Clarify Issues

Members of the Youth Center student board of directors will describe the history, program, organization and problems of Carmel's teenage recreation center for the Carmel High School Parent-Teacher Association this evening.

Youth Center speakers will include Martin McAuley, Midge Ensey and Veronica Taylor. Members of the Youth Center adult board will also be present to answer questions.

The meeting starts at 7:45 o'clock in the High School cafeteria. Students as well as parents are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Editor, Carmel Pine Cone:

Congressman Teague has announced that Director Wirth of the National Park Service has agreed to send a representative from his Washington headquarters to make a preliminary study of the proposed National Parkway between Carmel and San Simeon. In order to give your readers some official information on the project so that they will be better able to evaluate the results of the survey I should like to quote the following questions that I recently asked the Regional Director of the National Park Service in San Francisco and the replies that he made.

Carmel Provides Only 50 Percent Of Blood Needs

There will be a Blood Drawing at the Chapter House of the American Red Cross in Carmel on March 3 starting at 10:00 o'clock in the morning.

The blood situation in this community is critical, according to Mrs. Derek Rayne, Chairman for the Blood Program. Mrs. Rayne said that at the present time blood is being used at the hospitals by members of the Monterey County Medical Association for the benefit of local residents at the rate of approximately 500 pints per year. Against this figure the residents of the community are contributing a little better than 50 percent of this amount. This means that Carmel is using blood that has been donated by other communities in this district, Monterey, Salinas, Hollister, San Jose, etc.

Planners Choose Blanks Chairman, Approve Parabola

In their annual meeting yesterday afternoon, Carmel planning commissioners elected Herbert Blanks chairman for the coming year. Fred Keeble was re-elected vice chairman and Larry Rose commission secretary.

Letters of commendation were authorized to be sent to retiring commissioners, Mrs. Douglas MacGregor and Lee Gottfried, by continuing commissioners Hugh Smith, Mrs. Talbert Josselyn, George Wilcox and Chairman Blanks. Commissioner Keeble was absent.

The two vacancies on the commission will be filled by city council appointments suggested by the mayor.

The annual meeting of the commission followed two and a half (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Basketball

Friday, Feb. 25—Pacific Grove JV, Lightweights and Varsity at Carmel—5:30 p.m.

PADRES WIN TRIPLE-HEADER AT KING CITY

For the first time this season, Carmel High's basketball squads won all three games in league play as they clipped the King City Mustangs in jayvee, lightweight, and varsity action last Friday night at the Mustang pavilion. The wins were especially gratifying to the varsity and lightweight squads since the varsity victory assured Coach Dan Yurkovich's crew the B-division CCAL flag and the lightweight win was the initial league victory for Coach Hadley Hick's gang.

Although beaten by the Mustangs the first time around, the Padre varsity looked much the better of the two teams in last Friday's rematch. With little Mike Draper showing the way with superb floor play and a deft scoring touch from the outside, Carmel broke into a 25-11 lead in the first half and the title was in the bag. Dave Fuller, the other half of the Carmel pony guard duo, turned in his best scoring effort of the season as he pushed through six field goals on the front end of the Padre fast break. Rebounding honors were shared by Russ Wise, Chris and John Wilkin, and Toby Edson as the angular Padres completely dominated the boards in the 48-32 rout.

Determined to have company in the cellar position of the B-division, the Padre lightweights avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of the Ponies by outlasting the valley lads for a 31-26 victory. Jim Miles, fast-improving pivotman, showed the way for his mates by pumping through 13 points with his soft jump shots from around the key. Steve Fairfield and Teddy Leidig had vital parts to play in the coveted victory by their hustling court play and accurate passes to center Miles.

Carmel's junior-varsity topped the Mustang reserves, 43 to 26, for its seventh consecutive league win and its tenth win in twelve outings this season. The only teams posting wins over Coach Dick Lawitzke's charges are Robert Louis Stevenson and Monterey High. Mike Dunham, who is rapidly becoming the top gunner on the jayvee squad, tallied 11 points to lead his mates against the Mustang reserves. Sophomore Jim Brown chipped in with 10 markers while Bob Little found the range for 9 points.

CARMEL HOOP SQUADS HOST PACIFIC GROVE FRIDAY

Village basketball fans will have an opportunity to see three championship teams in action at the Carmel High gym tomorrow night when the Pacific Grove Breakers invade the Padre pavilion for three league bouts. The Carmel varsity has already wrapped up the B-division title, the Pacific Grove lightweights are undefeated in league play, and Carmel's jayvees are far in front of all opposition in junior-varsity play. Tomorrow night's games wind up regular league play but post-season hoop action finds both the Padres and Breakers taking part in the Carmel Invitational Tourney and the Padres are also slated for action in the Peninsula Tournament at Stanford University on March 7-9.

If the two varsity teams play back to their first-half engagement, tomorrow night's rematch should be a thriller. The Padres won the first one in a stirring overtime battle which hung in the balance all the way. Coach Marty Baskin's charges would like nothing better than to reverse the decision and sew up second place in the B-division chase. Top performers for the Breakers have been Barry Baskin, Mike Harris, and Bucky Boyns. Harris, a 6-5 center, has been the only player in the league capable of giving Carmel's tall rebounders a battle around the boards. The big guy fouled out in the last meeting to make the going a little easier for the Padres. Carmel's well-balanced quintet will again be manned by Chris and John Wilkin, Russ Wise, Mike Draper and Dave Fuller.

Pacific Grove's lightweight crew has made a shambles out of the lightweight flag race and is probably the best lightweight team in either the B or A division of the CCAL. Coach Charley Howell has an all-veteran aggregation going for him this season and it is a quick-hitting unit operating with a sizzling fast break. The Carmel Babes are buoyed up by a win over King City last week and relish the idea of upsetting the high-flying Wavelets. Coach Hicks' opening lineup includes Jim Miles, Ted Leidig, Steve Fairfield, John Odello, and Frank Bucher.

Tomorrow night's 5:30 game matches Coach Dick Lawitzke's classy Padre jayvees with Duke Thayer's second-place Breaker junior-varsity. Carmel whipped the PG jayvees rather handily the first time around and are favored to repeat the trick tomorrow night. Carmel's starters will be Bob Little, Jim Brown, Frank Mayo, Scott Forbes and Mike Dunham.

THROUGH THE HOOP

Charley Dawson led the Carmel Merchants to an 80-65 win over Segovia's Liquors in Monday night's play at the Carmel High gym. The ex-Parade star hit for 26 points to top Segovia's Mike Maiorana who found the range for 24 markers. Henry Overin helped the Merchant cause with 19 points and Gray had a good night with 17. This is the first win for the Merchants in the Monday Rec League and boosts their confidence for second-half action against the likes of Giles Men's Wear and Schulken's. The unbeaten Monterey High quintet ran into a cropper at Gilroy last Friday night and dropped an overtime decision to Coach Bob Hagen's well-coached aggregation. The wily Gilroy mentor slowed down the Toreadores to the pace dictated by the Mustangs and saw his charges weave their smooth play patterns through the confused defense of Monterey. An overflow crowd at the Gilroy gym was treated to one of the cage classics of the season as regulation time ran out with the score deadlocked at 33-33. In the overtime, Gilroy picked up two field goals and a free-throw to edge the Toreadores, 38 to 37. Peninsula fans will see a rematch between Gilroy and Monterey when they clash in the Carmel Tournament on March 4th...Carmel High took on the A-league's North Salinas High last Tuesday night and helped quiet the rumors that the Padres should be moved up to the A-division of the CCAL. The Vikings, who have to be the most improved team in the CCAL, drubbed the B-champs, 63 to 45, and appeared to be coasting as they breezed to the easy win. In their first game this season, the Vikings, a new school in the CCAL this year, were clobbered by Pacific Grove and figured to be a soft touch for all the prep quintets. However, Coach Don Nergord did a marvelous coaching job at North Salinas and has a feared quintet working for him now. The Viking Babes routed the Little Padres, 56 to 37, as forward Frank Ketchum poured through 28 points. Carmel's junior-varsity salvaged a little prestige for the B-division by clipping the big Salinas school, 43 to 34, as Mike Dunham, Jim Brown and Bob Little enjoyed accurate shooting streaks... What happens to the players who win the Most Valuable Player award at the Carmel Invitational Tournament? San Ramon's McMillen, winner in 1956, is with Baylor University in the Southwest Conference; Bub Bowling, Fremont's smooth playmaker and a two-time winner, is first string for Stanford University; and Gilroy's Dick Smith, another double winner, is a starter with the University of California Frosh squad.

John Lenk Arrives In Fairbanks After 3,500 Mile Car Trip

For 20 years Lenk was a businessman in Czechoslovakia, first as a wholesale chemical distributor, then as an automobile exporter and executive with Czech Air Lines.

"I was in Plzen when the Germans occupied Czechoslovakia in 1939," he says. "I was arrested by the Gestapo for listening to the B. B. C. and the Voice of America programs, and spent a year and a half in seven different concentration camps. When the Communists took over in 1948 I came to the United States."

Since coming to Carmel in 1957, Lenk has retired from his import-export business to devote his time to the arts. In addition to his concerts here, he finds time to play piano weekends at the Steinbeck Theatre on Cannery Row and to play a leading role in the Golden Bough Circle Theater production of Angel Street.

He has given concerts at the Highlands Inn, at the recently destroyed Peter Pan Lodge, at Carmel Town House, and has performed for a forum of composers at the Gilbert Boyer residence.

"It was Carmel that inspired me to leave the business world and begin playing piano steadily," Lenk says. "In my two years here I have composed more than in the previous 20 years. I feel relaxed here, and for the first time I have been able to re-evaluate my life. I've seen all 48 states, but Carmel is definitely the nicest place I've ever lived. I shall always consider it my home."

"But I consider it my duty to see the 49th state. This month I shall set out in my little French car for Fairbanks, Alaska. I have no idea what will happen to me there, but I'm sure it will be good."

"There's one thing I'm sure of: If there is something special in you, you won't have to fight for recognition. The world will come to you."

Salgo To Conduct 23rd Bach Festival Auditions, March 8

Sandor Salgo will come to Carmel March 8 to hear auditions for both choral singers and orchestral musicians planning to participate in the 23rd annual Bach Festival.

Festival directors said today they are especially interested this year in obtaining the cooperation and participation of proficient local instrumentalists, many of whom are new to the area or for other reasons have not played with festival orchestras before.

Limited time on audition day will make it necessary to obtain appointments ahead of time, according to Miss Angie Machado, local rehearsal director. Those seeking auditions should phone MAYfair 4-4166. The auditions will be held in Miss Machado's Carmel studio, Fifth and Santa Fe.

Conductor Salgo is slated to hear only newcomers to both chorus and orchestra at the auditions. All singers and musicians who have participated in prior festivals are being asked to sign up with Miss Machado so that rehearsals can get underway with a minimum of delay.

This year's festival will be held July 18-24 with the major performances at Sunset School auditorium, and additional sessions and lectures across the street at the Carmel Woman's Club.

PROSE COLUMN

Poets all over the country are served by the Pine Cone's 40 year old poetry column. Prose writers who would enjoy publication are invited to send in their work (keep it very short). No pay, sorry. SPRING IS A WRITER'S TIME TO BE ARTY

By Judith L. Myers

The greens are truly green, the sky has covered the whole world with blue and crimson rays, and the air has in it the smell of a damp nervousness. Squirrels are squirreling, birds are birding, dogs and cats are dogs and catting, and humans are humanizing. This is the season of good cheer and love for the world; this is spring and the world is happy.

Wake, leap out of bed, run to the door, fling it open and get chilled. Set up your lawn chairs, drag out the tall glasses and it rains. Put on your sandals, take a sleeveless walk and a cool wind blows. This is all part of the wonderful world of spring.

This time of year means coming out parties for flowers, show-off trees, delicious sunshine, soft damp grass, loving animals that doze in the sun, and crazy freedom feeling people. In the wintry states spring means scrubbing, vacuuming, and closet cleaning. In the sunshine states the same time of year means forgetting work and obligations; get out, inhale the breezes and run barefooted.

Ah yes, life is beautiful now. Shadows are still long, mud is everywhere, and the night air is chilly. There is still something in the atmosphere that makes mothers allow children to run outdoors and makes children allow mothers to smile and feel nostalgic.

Melancholia is part of now, lack of inhibitions is part of now. Lovers make love, lizards find smooth rocks to stretch out on, and the flies appear from behind everything.

Spring is a grandfather viewing the newborn, spring is a honey bee finding a new sage flower. Spring is the delightful moan of a girl in love. Spring is a chipper colt running from his dam to the grass ahead. Spring is a writer's time to be arty. Spring is something to somebody, everything to everybody, and nothing to something; but Spring is really here and glory be it's grand!

Edgar Jones To Sing "Wayfarer" In Spring Symphony Concert

The young Bay Area baritone Edgar Jones will be soloist with the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra in its Spring concert, March 8 in Sunset Auditorium.

Praised equally for his work as a recitalist and as soloist with the symphony orchestras of San Francisco, Sacramento, Oakland and Portland, Edgar Jones is also rated a singing actor of brilliance and versatility. His operatic roles have ranged from Mozart to Menotti; he was chosen for a leading role in the world premiere of Roger Sessions' Trial of Lucullus under the composer's direction.

This will be Mr. Jones' first appearance with the orchestra here. A resident of Berkeley, he is a member of the music faculty of Mills College (where he is voice teacher and choral director), and of the University of California Extension.

Conductor Earl Murray has chosen Mr. Jones to sing in two major works which the orchestra is performing for the first time here: Mahler's Songs of a Wayfarer, and Ravel's Don Quichotte a Dulcinee.

Completing the Spring concert program will be the overture to The Secret Marriage by Cimarosa, and the Beethoven Symphony No. 5 in C minor.

"Pop" Smith Keeps Up Family Interest In Royal Obstetrics

Cecil "Pop" Smith received a telegram from Buckingham Palace on Tuesday morning. The text was, "I am desired by the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh to thank you for your kind message of congratulations on the birth of their son." It was signed by a private secretary.

Last week Pop, as is his custom when a child is born to Queen Elizabeth, sent a cable of congratulations. His message was:

"Congratulations to you on the birth of your blessed child, May he be strong And still be gentle, meek and mild."

In his cable Pop explained that he sent the message because his uncle, Sir Thomas Smith, was surgeon extraordinary to Queen Victoria and sergeant surgeon to King Edward VII.

Letters . . .

Carmel, California
P. O. Box 2292
February 19, 1960

Dear Mrs. Cook:

As I think Carmel ought to have some kind of a roll of honor, I'm starting one with two names:

"Pop" Smith who has always a kind, encouraging word for every one.

"Pappy" Wood, the bus driver. A ride with him "Around the Point" is an adventure in friendliness.

Very truly,

J. Wm. MacLennan

P. O. Box 1805

Editor, Carmel Pine Cone:

Over the years it has been my experience to observe a number of elections for Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, in all of which the candidates avowed their great love of Carmel, its village atmosphere and its incomparable traditions of art, music, drama, and letters, which later turned out to be but lip service only and no at-test of the proclaimers' sincerity.

It was with a new outburst of that "hope that springs eternal from the human breast" that I observed the advent of the young Strum family in our political arena.

Sincere lovers of the Carmel tradition will remember the outstanding contribution of that little family in their long and arduous aid to the Klenke campaign that stopped the perpetrators of the break-down of the Carmel spirit in their attempt to weaken that spirit by the introduction of parking meters.

May the sincere lovers of Carmel heritage properly reward this Strum family with their votes and appreciation for people who do things for their community as well as talk about it.

We cannot understand how the Pine Cone overlooked the publishing of the sponsors of the Strum candidacy. It must have been a distinguished list of real Carmel lovers.

Sincerely,

(Miss) L. Clark.

Editor's Note:

Omission of Robert B. Strum's sponsors was only one bubu we made in last issue. We proclaimed in headline and lead sentence that eight candidates are contending for three city council vacancies and in the next sentence listed nine. Nine is correct.

Robert Strum's sponsors are: Col. C. A. DeCamp, who circulated his nomination papers; City Councilman Gunnar Norberg, Harold Ireland, Fred Farley, Frank B. Dickson, Capt. H. M. Gleason, Wesley W. Yale, Philip Schneeberger, George Walker, Mabel Broadus and Jeanie Klenke.

—W.C.

Shall we now say yea

In Fenton's latest scrimmage
To make us in the image of Main Street, U. S. A.?

Shall we scrap our laws

So champions of the chain store,
To the sound of chain saws,
Will have a chance to gain more?

Don't let Ethyl enter

That defiant chopping Center!
Get to that Monday meeting
And show we're not retreating!
—Mary Louise Schneeberger.

CLEMENT ATTLEE IN FREE
LECTURE AT MPC

Clement Attlee, postwar Prime Minister of Great Britain, will speak on The Future of Europe at Monterey Peninsula College Monday evening.

His lecture will be the second in the Spring, 1960 MPC evening lecture series. It will be presented in the armory, and will be open to the public without charge.

Not For Burning Next Production At Studio Theatre

Christopher Fry's poetic-fantasy, The Lady's Not For Burning, will be the next offering of Carmel's The Studio Theatre, when it opens March 3 for a four-to-six week run. Curtain time for all the performances, Thursday through Sunday, will be 8:30 o'clock.

The modern play, which has proved to be one of the most charming and delightful of recent contemporary comedies, is under the direction of Richard Bailey. Bailey announced that The Studio, which has already presented plays both in the conventional proscenium and arena styles, will add a third method of staging to its record when it presents The Lady's Not For Burning with horseshoe staging.

Cast in the production will be Errol Allan, most recently seen as Biff in The Studio's production of Death of a Salesman, and Maria Hallsted, who is playing the Princess Pavlikov in The Studio's presentation of Nude With Violin.

Ballad Singers At The Studio Theatre For One Performance

Appearing in Carmel on Sunday night will be David and Herta Marshall who will perform in a program of folk ballads, blues, and poetry set to music. Entitled An Evening With the Marshalls, the program will be presented for one evening only at The Studio Theatre at 8:40 o'clock, February 28.

An Evening With the Marshalls is a special program given under the auspices of The Studio Theatre and will mark the break between the current production of Nude with Violin and the next production of The Lady's Not For Burning.

The Marshalls are well-known entertainers in the field of balladry, having performed extensively in the East and the Southwest. Herta Marshall has appeared with both Josh White and Burl Ives, while David Marshall gained extensive experience as a writer and performer with the armed forces entertainment groups.

Included on the program will be selections from Sandburg, Benet, Edgar Lee Masters and other great American poets and composers.

Reservations may now be made for the single performance by telephoning The Studio Theatre.

HAND BLOWN GLASS DISPLAY AT CARMEL LIBRARY

The hand blown glass which has been on display in the Carmel Crafts Guild's show case in the Harrison Memorial Library during the month of February is the work of John Calder. Each week the pieces were changed so that the range of his art could be shown, ornamental glass animals, articles for artistic table arrangements and floral centerpieces, abstract and geometric forms, as well as the functional scientific work of the type he does at the Naval Postgraduate School where he works part time. The display will continue until March 4.

Mr. Calder's studio shop is in the Carmel Craft Studios on San Carlos Street.

Art On The Peninsula

The Feingarten Gallery on Lincoln Street had a cocktail party opening for an exhibition of the work of Margaret Wentworth (Mrs. Nathaniel Owings of Big Sur) on Friday night. The one-man show will continue until March 11. Gallery hours are 12:30-5:30 every day except Mondays.

A new gallery opened last week end, The Lawrence Drake, on San Carlos and Eighth, with a showing of the work of San Francisco Area artists. Gallery hours are 11:00 to 5:00 o'clock except Monday when the gallery is closed. The show will continue through March 9.

A new showing of oils, water colors and sculpture by members will open at the Carmel Art Association Galleries on Dolores Street on Wednesday. Gepe Elmore and C. J. Ryland, in charge of the hanging, remind members that they must have their work for this exhibition at the gallery before 5:00 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Next meeting of the board of directors will be held March 9 at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the gallery.

Forty paintings, composing a $250,000 collection, will be on exhibition at the Monterey Peninsula College library March 8-18.

The exhibit, taken from the Pfeiffer and Gallagher collections at the University of Arizona Gallery, will present a survey of "mainstream" American painting since the 1920's.

Works by John Sloan, Edward Hopper, Reginald Marsh, Charles Burchfield and Walt Kuhn, Arshile Gorky, John Marin, Morris Graves, Jackson Pollock and Stuart Davis will be exhibited. Also a painting by Maxine Albro of Carmel, selected from the Pfeiffer collection.

The exhibition is co-sponsored by the College and the American Federation of Arts, Peninsula Chapter.

Gallery hours will be from 11:30 to 9:00 weekdays and from 1:00 to 6:00 o'clock Saturday and Sunday.

Gene Elmore will hang a new show of work of local painters, oils and watercolors, Monday at his Craft Center Gallery on San Carlos Street south of Ocean Ave. Shows change monthly; gallery hours 10:00 to 5:00 daily except Sunday.

The weekly Friday Free For All Show, 3:00 to 4:00 in the central room of the Craft Center, provides an opportunity for anybody to show his work. Paintings are set up along the wall; the public looks them over and votes. The winners are displayed for the following week in the entrance hall to the center. This week's winners are Lily Trube and Marie Stockton.

Portraits, scenes of Paris and still-life oils of Monterey Peninsula painter Abel Warshawsky will constitute the March exhibition in the west gallery at Villa Montalvo.

F. Albertson

Frederick Albertson, a retired master mariner, died on February 19 in a local hospital after a short illness. He had lived in Carmel for the past 14 years.

Mr. Albertson was born in Marstal, Denmark, 79 years ago. For 32 years he served as a master mariner in the San Francisco and Sacramento areas and lived in Oakland and Concord. He was a member of Alcatraz Lodge No. 244 A. & F. M. and of Oakland Consistory, Scottish Rite.

Survivors are his wife, Marjorie, of Carmel; a sister, Miss Ellen Albertson of Niborg, Denmark; a brother, Captain A. A. Porse of Odense, Denmark; a nephew, Richard Albertson of Martinez; and several nieces and nephews living in Denmark.

Funeral services were held on Monday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea with the Carmel Masonic Lodge officiating. Inurnment was in El Carmelo Columbarium.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mr. Albertson may do so in the form of donations to the Monterey County Heart Association, Box 1329, Monterey, or to Guide Dogs for the Blind, San Rafael.

Public Invited To Talks And Films At Friends Conference

Alternate service in work of national importance for persons of draft age will be described at the Regional Meeting of the American Friends Service Committee at the Girl Scout House, Lincoln and Sixth Street, at 4:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Ben Seaver, Peace Secretary of the San Francisco office of the Service Committee, will talk and show the 24-minute film, Alternatives. The film, a documentary for conscientious objectors to war, was produced cooperatively by more than 40 religious and peace organizations.

At 5:00 o'clock Mrs. Mary Louise Hopper will speak on the freedom movement in Africa. She was a delegate at the Second All-African Peoples Conference recently held in Tunis.

At 7:30 in the evening, following potluck to which all are invited, Milton Mayer, author and newspaper and magazine writer just returned from 18 months in Eastern and Western Europe, will speaking on Two Worlds. He will discuss the paradox of power, the balance of terror and the morality of military deterrents. Louis Balsam will preside at the meeting. Admission is free, the public invited.

SUBSTITUTION

*The maple has cast off her garments
Of lifeless, discarded red leaves
But tanagers weave through her branches
Refuting it's winter, who grieves?*

—THELMA IRELAND.

HANDS UPON THE HARP

(Dedicated to Mary Lindsay-Oliver)

*Lighter than thin petals blowing, they pluck from flashing strings a theme like release of rain in April—voices from the edge of dream...
Fingers leap with singing rainbows;
they pace a rich cathedral rime;
and voices rise—from pew and chancel, not tied by dream, but free to climb with choirs lifting lighted candles flaming high and high, and higher, until they blaze and touch together in tongues of Alleluia fire.*

—OLIVIA YOUNG.

PHEASANT SENTINELS

*The boughs of fir are drenched in silver snow
Like feathered wings of snow geese winging far,
They brush the sky and sweep for miles along
To mass where hidden springs of crystal are.
I keep my pace with snow wings down the hill
And take a pathway etched on banks of white,
Where questing birds have walked before me here
In shifting crisscross steps of sheer delight:
I see the pheasants file through boughs of fir
And huddle under canopies of snow,
Like sentinels on guard at winter forts
Alert to sight and sound of coming foe!*

—EDNA JAMES KAYSER.

DREAM SHIPS

*The masts are tall against the sky,
Some giant trees, some half as high.
With their canvas sails unfurled
They all go forth to see the world.
To all the strange and foreign places
Homes of different ways and races.
I sail in dreams on every ship
Though I have never made a trip.
I know the sounds of surf and sea
The taste of native Chinese tea,
I know the sights of palms and sands
The mountain peaks and rockbound lands.
I may never sail upon my sea
So books my masted ships must be.*

—PATRICIA McLAIN.

Billboard Blight
Menaces Federal Highway System

The new federal highway system will become a 41,000-mile "billboard slum," unless state legislatures act quickly, says the March Reader's Digest.

Nearly 4,000 miles of the interstate system have been completed so far, at a cost of about a million dollars a mile, and much of the brand-new highway already has been taken over by billboards, according to the article. The Great Billboard Scandal of 1960, by Charles Stevenson, Washington editor of the magazine.

More than 50 signs were counted on 15 miles of Interstate 35, between Olathe and Kansas City, Kansas. In California, the number of rural signs has doubled in a decade, desecrating some of the world's loveliest scenery. Even before New York state Route 17 through the Catskills was opened a few years ago, workmen were erecting billboard frames alongside it, and cutting down state trees to make sure the signs would be visible. In California the eastshore freeway from San Jose to Oakland was lined with billboards before it was completed.

Under existing federal law, the government will pay states a bonus of one half of one percent of the cost of the highways affected, if they pass laws allowing no more than two signs per mile within 660 feet of the road. A state must qualify by June 30, 1961, or it cannot collect. But so far, only Maryland, Wisconsin, Connecticut and North Dakota are eligible. Elsewhere, the billboard lobby has been too powerful.

In Sacramento, the billboard bill was so emasculated that supporters dropped it. Ohio had passed a tough law in 1958. Last year, it was up for minor changes to qualify for the federal bonus; instead, a repealer, partly drafted by billboard lobbyists, emerged. It was vetoed by Governor Mike DiSalle. In Virginia, the Highway Advertisers' Association urged farmers into a battle against mile control legislation.

However, citizens of Maryland have shown how to fight the billboards and win. When a bill was introduced in 1958, garden clubs set up a "telephone chain," which alerted four thousand members in an hour. Letters poured into the legislature, women hurried to the state capitol and called on legislators. Each time a vote was to be taken, this process was repeated. The result: Maryland has one of the strongest billboard-control laws in the nation. This process, Mr. Stevenson suggests, can be repeated in any state afflicted with billboard blight.

Music On The Peninsula

By MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The Moscow State Symphony Orchestra was heard on Saturday evening at the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco, in a Prokofiev, Tchaikowsky and Rachmaninoff program, and proved a reward for the quick drive there and back at 3:00 o'clock the following morning, as I was obliged to be here Sunday for a portrait sitter. The performances of the Russian organization have won enthusiasm from both critics and the public throughout their first tour of America, and judging from the excitement produced in the huge auditorium, which however was not filled, it became evident that this was not merely a goodwill welcome, but the result of good playing conducted by the astute Kiril Kondrashin and the excellently trained group.

Unless in England or Germany, I do not think I have heard better modulation or general orchestral nuance. The impassioned rendering of the Adagio in the Rachmaninoff No. 2 Symphony, which originally won the composer's success, apart from the hackneyed Prelude, was certainly deeply stirring and deserved the ovation it received. That movement brought back to me the deep earnestness of Serge Rachmaninoff as I personally knew him, when he became the final judge of a pianists' contest for Northern New Jersey, arranged by Rudolph Ganz and myself in connection with a series of concerts of world famous artists in the Newark Armory, nor shall I ever forget his conscientious effort to be absolutely fair in his judgement, which, besides his musicianship increased my respect for him. His symphony shows the same earnestness of purpose and feeling. Violinist Valerii Klimov, soloist with the Concerto in D major by Tchaikowsky, achieved brilliant tone and virtuoso manipulation. Kondrashin used no scores or baton, and his conducting technique and modest bearing won plenty of applause.

Under the baton of Johnny Green, a special San Francisco Symphony concert is announced with John Sebastian, virtuoso of the Harmonica, as guest soloist on February 27 at the Opera House. This takes us back to a childhood days' plaything, but because of the art evolved on it by Sebastian, the harmonica is now being treated as a serious instrument, like the guitar. Sebastian has appeared with the foremost orchestras of the United States and Europe in a repertoire from Bach to Milhaud, and will perform Tche-repnin's Concerto for Harmonica and Orchestra, dedicated to him by the composer.

Louis Fragos of Pacific Grove, one of the first violins in the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra and a teacher of violin, presented his gifted 11-year-old pupil Taehyun Chang in concert recital at the Pacific Grove High School in aid of the Society for Mentally Retarded Children. It was a mature and ambitious program, and though all was played from the scores, clearly showed the boy's talent and spontaneity. Unfortunately, I lost the program on the

the way home, but out of a number of selections, a Bach Largo and a Beethoven Concerto stood out in the performance of the two violinists, the last named giving Fragos a short solo, introducing the slow movement, which made one wish to hear him play more often.

The boy is sensitive, self-dedicated to music. The good sized audience liked his playing and his attitude, and will watch his progress with interest. He has already acquired a technique and facility that many older violinists have not achieved with wonderfully mature bowing, and he has progressed much since heard last year at the Carmel Town House. The accompanist, Seung Park at the piano, did good and sympathetic playing.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Christ Jesus' inspiring mission of healing and redemption will be the central topic at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" will include this passage from John (10:36,38): "If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not. But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in him."

And from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, this citation will be read (26:14): "Divine Truth, Life, and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death. His mission was to reveal the Science of celestial being, to prove what God is and what He does for man."

Diane Redding Engaged

Announcement of the engagement of Diane Patricia Redding to John Leonard Van Dien has been received from Diane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Redding, who are traveling in Europe until the summer.

Diane graduated from Carmel High School in 1956 and was a cheerleader and a songleader during her high school years. She attended the University of Colorado where she was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority before going abroad to study at The Hague, Holland.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Van Dien of Boysville, Wisconsin. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin as a business management major and is now associated with Chrysler International in Rotterdam and lives at the Hague.

No date for the wedding has been set.

Lions' Student Speaker Contest

Three high school students competed for honor of representing the Carmel Lions Club at the district convention in May when they spoke before members of the Club last week on the subject: People to People, Key to World Understanding. These students had previously been selected by their speech teacher at the high school. The winner, after a close contest, was Mike Bein, who defeated Sharon Tredmore and Bill True. The students had been coached by Mrs. Hazel Mohler and Hadley Hicks of the Carmel High School faculty. Acting as judges were three members of the Carmel Toastmasters: Ted Minnis, Lloyd Campbell and Clement Trapkus.

Mike Bein will talk at the Monterey Library March 18, competing with the winners of the Monterey, Pacific Grove and Seaside Lions Clubs. In the event he should be declared over-all winner of District 4, he would be given a $1500 scholarship in any college of his choice. Present in the audience were In-

Smiling just after their wedding on February 4 are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Russell Conklin (Anne Putnam). The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Richard Ewing in the First Methodist Church, Las Vegas, Nevada. Witnesses were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Putnam of Carmel.

The bride and groom are now in the East. The groom is attending Bridgeport University in Connecticut. Previous to their marriage, they both were students at Monterey Peninsula College.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Conklin of Shelton, Connecticut.

International Director Maurice Perstein of San Francisco-Marina Club; International Counsellor Les Olson of Burlingame, and International Counsellor Bob Dallison of East Palo Alto. Guest of Dr. James Gilman was Dr. James G. Brown, newcomer to Carmel. Chairman for the contest was Lion Charles Seaver, who presented all contestants with gift certificates on the local stores.

George Westcott In Training

On January 25 George Westcott, a 1959 graduate of Carmel High School, completed the construction machine operator course at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. He is now trained to operate heavy construction machines such as bulldozers, graders and other equipment used in the building of roads, airfields and buildings.

George entered the Army in September and received his basic training at Fort Ord.

Wed At Highlands Inn Chapel

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowers are now living in Monterey. They were married on February 6 in Highlands Inn Chapel by the Reverend James Spaide, pastor of the Monterey Peninsula United Lutheran Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mahlow of Carmel. Four months ago she came from Germany to join her parents.

Mrs. Mahlow had known the groom's mother, Mrs. Willard Ross Bowers of Waco, Texas, when they both lived near Frankfort. This fall Mrs. Bowers with her husband and son visited Mrs. Mahlow in Carmel. At this time the young people renewed an earlier childhood friendship which resulted in their wedding.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her white nylon taffeta gown had a long-sleeved fitted bodice with a high neckline and a full skirt which swept to the floor in back. A tiny flowered coronet held her elbow-length veil in place and she carried a bouquet of 23 dark red roses, one for each year of her age.

She was attended by her sister, Margaret, who wore a pink nylon dress with a short full skirt, a matching pink headdress and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Fred Nelson was best man for the groom and George Faige escorted guests to their seats.

The reception following the wedding was held in the home of the bride's parents in Carmel.

P-TA Life Membership Award

Mrs. Harry Hilbert was presented with a life membership by the Carmel Elementary Parent-Teacher Association at the last meeting of the unit. The award was made in honor of her service to youth in the community.

For 23 years Mrs. Hilbert has been active in P-TA work with safety her special field of interest. She is safety chairman of the High School P-TA unit this year, safety chairman of the Monterey Peninsula P-TA Council and a member of the Monterey Peninsula Safety Council. She has also served as chairman of the Woods School safety committee, P-TA membership and hospitality committees and vice-president of the elementary unit.

Her husband, Harry, is the proprietor of Hilbert's Creamery and for many years was Carmel city treasurer. The Hilberts have two sons, Harrison, a senior at Carmel High School, and Clayton, a freshman.

Mrs. Hilbert became a member of the elementary P-TA before the birth of her two sons when her nephew, Arthur Hilbert, was living in her home.

World Day Of Prayer

World Day of Prayer will be observed by the United Church Women of the Monterey Peninsula on Friday, March 4, at the Methodist Church in Pacific Grove beginning with a quiet hour at 12:30. The program prepared by the national body for all cooperating women's religious groups will follow at 1:30 o'clock.

This world-wide observance will begin in the Tonga Islands just west of the International Date line in the South Pacific and travel westward around the world for twenty-four hours, ending with the setting sun on St. Lawrence Island in southwest Alaska. Prayers will be given in sixty languages and 1000 dialects, during the services in forty-five countries on six continents.

"The purpose," says the official call to prayer, "is to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer... for all the peoples of the world and to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad." Funds obtained will be used for education, literature, and social welfare projects in the underdeveloped areas of the world.

Most of the Protestant Church women's societies on the Monterey Peninsula are affiliated with the U.C.W. and meet together four times a year to forward the Christian work. Mrs. J. H. McCortney of Pacific Grove is this year's president of the organization.

Concert At Woman's Club Monday
The Peninsula Concert Trio composed of Elizabeth Gary Du Val, violin, Louise Friedhofer Vadetsky, cello, and Camille Olaeta, piano, will present a concert for the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The program will include works of Mozart, Schubert, Smetana, Hubay and Mendelssohn.

A tea will follow, with Miss Philippine Crecelius and Miss Lucy Mills, hostesses. Miss Elizabeth Reid, Mrs. Peter Kutschera, Mrs. Conrad Imelman and Mrs. A. G. Bolm will pour. Assisting the hostesses will be Mrs. Roy Elliott, Mrs. E. L. Bidwell, Mrs. Charles Fonteneau, Mrs. Edward Schmidt and Miss Ada Browning. Mrs. Richard Ware Hall will arrange the flowers.

Adm. Goodwin Sells Article

American Legion Magazine has accepted an article by Vice Admiral Hugh H. Goodwin (ret.) of Pebble Beach.

The Miracle of 'Mariner,' a personal experience story, deals with incident during war maneuvers in the North Atlantic.

Admiral Goodwin, a student in John Woolfendon's advanced Feature Article Writing class at Monterey Peninsula College evening school, had previously sold a brief article, 'Rarin' to Go... Home, to U. S. Naval Institute Proceedings.

Miss Carey Edson, 20, University of California junior has been appointed to Women's C Society on the Berkeley campus. Women's "C" Society is an honorary organization for women who are active in the Women's Athletic Association.

Second vice president of Delta Zeta sorority, Carey is the daughter of Mrs. Ingram Edson.

Membership is confined to students who have achieved at least a "B" skill in at least two sports, have a grade point average of at least 2.14 and have rendered service to the Women's Athletic Association.

Carey has been Co-Chairman of the Social Recreation Board, a member of Activities Planning Commission, Cal's representative at the regional conference of the Association of College Unions, and Intramural Swimming Manager for the Women's Athletic Association.

A physical education major at the University, Carey plans to travel and to teach high school physical education.

Bob Smith Recuperating

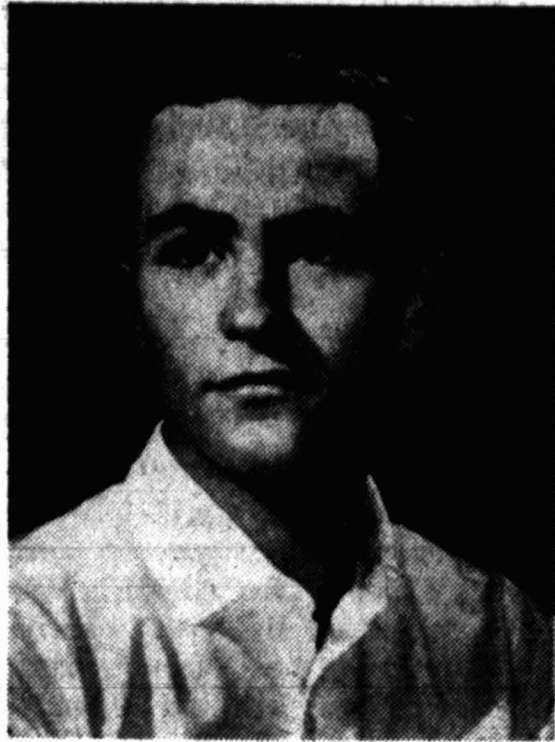

F. Robert Smith went home on Friday after two-week's hospitalization for major surgery. He is recuperating at home and endeavoring to regain the 20 pounds of weight he lost during his illness. Bob expects to return to his business in another week's time.

At Squaw Valley for the Winter Olympics over the Washington's Birthday holiday were Mrs. Paul Clark, Mrs. F. Robert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Blair McDonald, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Meyer, Mrs. Rodie Holt and Mrs. Jean Geisen.

In National Academy Show

Donald Teague, N.A., of Carmel is one of the exhibitors in the one hundred and thirty-fifth annual exhibition of the National Academy of Design in New York City. The show opens today and continues through March 20. The work of 292 artists is on display.

—PHOTOS BY MURLE OGDEN.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meade Williams are announcing the engagement of their younger daughter, Susan Lacy, to John Faia III, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Faia Jr. They plan an August marriage.

Jack gave Lacy her engagement ring on St. Valentine's Day just before she returned to Carmel after a week end at Oregon State College during which she attended a house dance at Jack's fraternity, Delta Tau Delta.

Lacy and Jack met when they were students at Carmel High School where Lacy was Football Queen in her junior year, also a cheerleader and president and vice president of Girls' League.

At Carmel High School, Jack was vice president of the Class of 1957, vice president of the student body and lettered in football and basketball. He is now a pre-dental junior at Oregon State.

Lacy was born in Carmel. After graduating from Carmel High in 1958, she attended Oregon State College for a year and was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. This year she is a student at Monterey Peninsula College. She has a sister, Mrs. Ed Bryant of Carmel, and a brother, Chris, a student at Pratt Institute of Technology in New York City. Mrs. Jesse Lynch Williams, a Carmel resident for many years, is her grandmother. Her uncles are Laidlaw and Jesse Lynch Williams Jr.

Dr. and Mrs. Faia, Jack's parents, have two other sons, Ron, a senior at Carmel High School, and Tom, a freshman.

Following their marriage, Lacy and Jack plan to live in Los Angeles for four years while Jack attends the University of Southern California College of Dentistry.

Rainers Have First Daughter

Jean, the first girl in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rainer, was born on February 19 in the Peninsula Community Hospital with a birth weight of seven pounds, 15 ounces. She has two brothers, Teddy, six years old, and Scott, two.

Mrs. G. F. Rainer of Carmel and Mr. and Mrs. Ben McBurney of Claremont are Jean's grandparents. Her father is a member of the Carmel High School faculty.

Symphony Guild Preview Tea

The Form and Shape of Music is the subject of the lecture that Earl Bernard Murray, Monterey County Symphony conductor, will give on Tuesday afternoon at the Monterey County Symphony Guild pre-concert tea. The event will be held in the Parish Hall of All Saints' Episcopal Church, starting at 2:30 o'clock.

The next Symphony concert is on March 8.

Ash Wednesday Services In The Carmel Churches

The fourth annual Ash Wednesday evening service will be held March 2 at 8:00 o'clock in All Saints' Episcopal Church at Ninth Avenue and Dolores Street. An annual observance of the Church of the Wayfarer, the Carmel Presbyterian Church, and All Saints' Episcopal Church, the services rotate through the three sponsoring congregations. This year the local Episcopal parish will, for the second time, be host.

Special preacher will be the president of the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School, Dr. Ralph M. Johnson. A graduate of Redlands University and Colgate-Rochester Divinity School in Rochester, New York, Dr. Johnson served as General Director of the Council on Missionary Cooperation of the American Baptist Convention before assuming his present post in 1957. He is president of the Presidents and Deans Conference of the American Baptist Educational Association. He was co-author of Faith and Fellowship of American Baptists. His sermon topic next Wednesday will be Discovery Through Discipline.

Officiating at the service will be clergy and layreaders of the local parish. A special Men and Boys Choir, under the direction of Organist-Choirmaster Robert M. Forbes, will sing the service of Choral Evensong as well as a special anthem.

The Basilica of Carmel Mission will open Lent on Ash Wednesday with three Masses, 7:00 and 11:30 in the morning, and 5:30 in the evening. Ashes will be blessed at the first Mass and distributed before and after all Masses during the day.

Lenten schedule at the Basilica: Daily Masses 7:00 and 11:30 o'clock in the morning, and a 5:30 Mass in the evening on Fridays. Way of the Cross services are on Wednesdays at 2:30 and 7:30 in the afternoon. The weekly Novena in honor of Our Mother of Perpetual Help is on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Confessions are heard daily before the 7:00 o'clock morning Mass, and before the 5:30 Friday evening Mass.

Sunday Masses are at 7:00, 8:00, 9:00, 10:00, 11:00 and 12:15 in the morning. The Girls Choir, under the direction of Sister Joseph Julie and Sister Marie Celeste sings for the 9:00 o'clock Sunday Mass; the Boys Choir, directed by Dr. Harvey Marshall and Miss Angie Machado, at the 11:00 o'clock Mass.

CAR ROLLS OVER

Two Carmel residents were slightly injured in an accident on Carmel Hill this morning at 7:50 o'clock.

According to the California Highway patrol report, Lieutenant Joe M. James, Carmel, was driving towards Monterey when some cars stopped ahead of him near the Via Castaneda intersection. He pulled to the right onto the shoulder of the road. His car rolled over.

Lieutenant James and his passenger, Orlene Rosengren, Carmel, received slight injuries. The car was dented in several places and was towed away.

VOTE FOR CHANNEL CHOICE

Monterey Peninsula Television sent out ballots today for the cable subscribers to vote on their preference of channels (9, 11 or 2) on cable 3. A compromise choice provides Channel 9 Mondays through Fridays and Channel 2, Saturdays and Sundays.

HOSPITAL KITCHEN TOO HOT FIRE DEPARTMENT COOLS IT

On Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock, for the second time this winter, the temperature in the second floor kitchen at the Peninsula Community Hospital rose too many degrees in too many seconds and tripped the hospital's automatic alarm in the Carmel Fire House.

The fire department answered the call and found the alarm was caused by the following conditions: the heat was on; no windows were open; ovens were lighted; the dishwasher was in use. The temperature rose within a certain number of seconds beyond the number of degrees allowed by the automatic safety monitor and the alarm rang at the fire house.

... please stop pointing, dear, so I can take a picture of you in this beautiful place.

It was certainly nice of MARGARET PEASLEY, Travel Agent to arrange this trip for us.

She's the only A.S.T.A. member on the Monterey Peninsula and Carmel.

On Friday evening James Standard, bass-baritone, will be presented by the MPC Artist Concert Series. And La Strada, prize-winning Italian film, will be shown by the MPC Evening Film Series.

Standard's concert will begin at 8:30 o'clock in the Library Lecture Hall. The film, starring Anthony Quinn, will be shown in the Armory at 8:00 o'clock. Both events are open without charge to the public.

ATTENDS CONGRESS

Dr. Charles Pearson was one of 1,200 delegates at the fifty-fifth annual Congress of the California Optometric Association in Santa Monica last week end.

He presided at a breakfast meeting of the optometric extension program during which his group discussed vision problems of preschool and school children.

Graves Challenges Parkway As Solution For Highway No. 1

gree of accessibility is determined by the engineers. There is therefore very little difference between the two types of highway, except that in one case the state engineers would make the decision and in the other case the federal engineers.

Question No. 2. Are the National Parkways always constructed by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads? After construction, is maintenance provided by the Bureau of Public Roads or by the National Park Service?

Answer. "All of the National Parkways have been built by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads serving as its construction agency. After construction is completed, the parkway is maintained by the National Park Service."

This subject of entrusting construction of the highway to the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads is a vital matter, particularly in the Big Sur section, where so many decisions have to be made on bridges and cuts and fills. The Sierra Club Bulletin for October 1958 has a four-page article on the devastating effects of the construction work that the Bureau of Public Roads did on the Tioga road in Yosemite National Park. Let me quote a few sentences from the beginning and the end of the article:

"In what would appear to be a tragic disregard of protests from the principal conservation organizations concerned with national-park protection, road engineers (U.S. Bureau of Public Roads) are proceeding to dynamite and bulldoze one of the primary scenic exhibits in Yosemite National Park to make way for the last park stretch of realigned, high-speed, trans-Sierra Tioga Highway.

"Proposed alternatives that would have avoided all major damage are going unused. More than three miles of the new route rip into what was hitherto unspoiled national park wilderness, including some of Yosemite's most extraordinary glacier-polished terrain—that the Director (of the National Park Service) tried to spare...The unscarred view west from the Tenaya Basin and north from Cloud's Rest is gone; and the most spectacular, most educational, most exquisite exhibit of glacier polish along the entire length of the Tioga highway is destroyed for the duration of this civilization, as was the shining shore of Tenaya Lake and the unique canyon above it."

Question No. 3. If a National Parkway for the California coast should be approved by Congress, would it be possible by special legislation to change the character of the parkway so that it would not be a 'limited access' road and would not be constructed by the Bureau of Public Roads?

Answer. "It seems to us that you would not have the conditions which make for a National Parkway, if you set up a provision for unlimited access to the parkway road, to result in frequent interruption of elongated park continuity, in contrast to the prerequisites for National Parkways. We have no way of knowing whether it would be possible to have special legislation to provide for a National Parkway for the California Coast to be constructed by some agency other than the Bureau of Public Roads."

The National Park Service has an 8-page statement of Requirements and procedures to Govern the Acquisition of Land for National Parkways. There are at present nine of these parkways, all established under this statement, and there is no reason to think that ours would be any exception. According to this statement, the States are required to give rights-of-way that must "average not less than 100 acres per mile, plus scenic easement control averaging 50 acres per mile, but at no point shall the width of the parkway be less than 200 feet. One hundred acres per mile is equal to a width of 825 feet."

According to this official statement, on a 100-mile stretch of Highway 1 the taxpayers of the State would have to foot a bill for 10,000 acres of highway roadside property in fee simple, plus 5,000 acres in scenic easements. In some sections south of Carmel Highlands property of this kind has recently sold for $30,000 per acre. A little work with paper and pencil will give some idea of the cost of right-of-way for this stretch alone, to say nothing of the Skyline Drive section south of San Francisco.

I think that information of the above nature should be disseminated as rapidly and thoroughly as possible. We waited too long to begin consideration of the plans for the Carmel Hill Interchange and we are now paying for our lethargy.

Sincerely,
C. Edward Graves.

Carmel Mission Is Honored With Basilica Status

Carmel Mission has been elevated to the rank of minor basilica by Pope John XXIII. Ceremonies in honor of the Mission's new status will probably be held in August after the official decree creating the new basilica is received from Rome, according to Bishop Harry A. Clinch, pastor of Carmel Mission.

Mission San Carlos Borromeo del Rio Carmelo was founded by Father Junipero Serra in 1770. It has been selected to be the twelfth basilica in the United States because it is the burial place of Father Serra and one of California's best known Spanish era missions. The title of basilica is only bestowed on churches considered to have achieved antiquity, dignity, historical importance or significance as places of worship.

Clergy of the Mission when present in a body will be accorded priority throughout the world in processions and seating arrangements. A special basilica seal may be used in documenting baptismal and marriage certificates. Carmel Mission will also have the privilege of a special basilica bell and canopy which may be carried in processions and displayed in the sanctuary.

Mission Dolores in San Francisco is the only other basilica west of the Rockies. Major basilicas are all situated in Italy. Among European minor basilicas are Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris, and the Church at the Grotto of Lourdes.

hours of discussion on use permits to divide property, a variance to allow new construction, a time extension, six remodeling requests and a building permit for a residence in the business district.

Mrs. Donna Hofas was given a building permit for a "hyperboloid parabola" roofed residence behind the Hofas House motel on San Carlos Street. C. A. Dayton, architect for Mrs. Hofas, brought colored slides of similar roofs for commissioners to study. A difference of opinion as to the desirability of the "butterfly" type roof arose between commissioners. Mrs. Josselyn thought the house did not "fit into the village scene." Other commissioners liked the unusual design and the permit was granted.

Commissioners asked for and got additional planting about the Drive-In Market at Eighth Avenue and Dolores Street. Richard Zoellin, operator of the market, agreed to increase planting strips along Dolores and Eighth beyond the building in order to screen the parking strip.

Mr. Zoellin plans to enclose the present open arcade at the market in order to obtain added store space. He will landscape the corner area at Eighth and Dolores for ten feet along each street frontage and also have a narrow planter along a wall. "This biggest expanse of nothing needs help," Mr. Zoellin declared when asking for a narrow planter at this location where he plans to espalier shrubs or vines. Remodeling designs for the market were presented to the commission by Mr. Zoellin's draftsman, Hartland Law.

After lengthy consultation of the city zoning ordinance by City Attorney John Morse, commissioners found they were empowered to permit consolidation of buildings at the Richfield station at San Carlos and Fifth Streets. It is one of Carmel's seven non-conforming gas stations in the C-1 business district. Commissioners wanted to be sure they might permit the Richfield Oil Company to eliminate a service building and separate rest room building at the site and place these facilities in an addition to the existing central office structure.

Plans for the remodeling at this site were explained to the commission by Robert Klammer, Richfield representative. He told commissioners the front of the proposed building will be glass above Carmel stone on San Carlos Street, all Carmel stone on Fifth Avenue. Neither the rest rooms nor service facilities will be visible from the street. Signs will be carved and painted wood. The reduction in size of building coverage will be 600 square feet. There will be planting across the back of the site and on street frontages.

Mr. Klammer declared complete plans will be submitted when the Richfield lease for the property is renewed by the Gordon Trust.

Interior remodeling permits were granted to Dr. J. C. Marasco for a store on Fifth Avenue between Junipero and Mission Streets; to Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Miller for an apartment house on Casanova between Ocean and Fourth; to Crocker-Anglo Bank at the corner of Ocean and Dolores. The Carmel Foundation may add a recreation room to their building. Anthony Vasconcellos obtained six months' extension for construction at Junipero and Third.

Sitting as a board of adjustments, commissioners continued a request for the division of three parcels of land into building sites at Flanders Way and Viscaino Avenue requested by Lerue and Adele Sorenson. A limited water supply in the area might create a fire hazard if residences are built on the three proposed sites. Commissioners want to study the situation further. Fire Chief Robert Smith and Eben Whittlesey, resident of the area, spoke about the lack of adequate water supply in this corner of the Eighty Acres. Both commissioners and Mr. Whittlesey pointed out the lots were adjacent to the proposed canyon natural park in the master plan. Any fire in this forested area might be disastrous.

Richard Hittinger and Lee Gottfried, owners of adjacent residences, also spoke against the division of the property which can only be reached by a narrow steep driveway. The driveway parallels the Hittinger land and, if widened, might damage it. The driveway gives access to the Gottfried property. "Four more users is asking for trouble," Mr. Gottfried said. Difficulty of access for fire equipment down such a narrow entrance also bothered the commission.

Leo Tanous was denied permission to panhandle gerrymander two lots at Twelfth Avenue and Carmelo Street. Commissioners decided there was no undue hardship evidenced.

The request of Allen Knight for a variance for an addition to his private marine museum at the northeast corner of Guadalupe and Sixth was continued.

Fresno Construction Co. Low Bidders For Carmel Hill Interchange Work

Yesterday Baun Construction Company of Fresno submitted the lowest bid (present contract rate plus $77,000) for the completion of the Carmel Hill interchange. Six bids were opened by a representative of Continental Casualty Company of Chicago, bonding company responsible for finishing the job. The highest was $200,000.

According to bonding company specifications, the work must be completed by some time in August. No work on the interchange, only 53 percent complete, has been done since the second week in January. The contractor, Fred Stokes, was killed in a plane crash after unsuccessfully trying to get a $350,000 loan from the Federal Small Business Administration to finish construction. The bonding company took over and will announce to the Division of Highways next week to whom the contract has been awarded.

Continental Casualty has offered $100 a day bonus for each day the interchange is completed before the 115 working days scheduled.

We'll let you know how it comes out!

A S. F. advertising agency executive writing about outdoor advertising in February issues of Harper's says: "Outdoor is not an advertising medium; it is isolated advertising. An advertising medium is a medium which incidentally carries advertising, but whose primary function is to provide something else; entertainment, news, matches, telephone listings, anything. I'm afraid the billboard doesn't qualify as a medium at all; its medium, if any, is the scenery around it and that is not its to give away. Nor is a walk down the street brought to you by courtesy of outdoor advertising."

On page seven of this issue of the Pine Cone is a summary of Readers Digest's article on billboard blight along our new federal highway.

The county planning commissioners are not wavering on the billboard ordinance, member Keith Evans assured us this morning. They are simply looking for ways of plugging up a possible hole in it.

The ordinance requires billboards to come down everywhere in the county after July 1, except commercial and industrial zones, where they are allowed on use permit. There are unzoned areas along the highway where there is commercial development, such as San Ardo and Bradley. The billboard companies protest removing billboards in such areas, and the courts may agree with them, the commissioners think.

Last month the commission asked its staff to make a zoning plan for the unzoned areas. Tuesday the commissioners from the southern part of the county said the farmers objected to precise zoning, fearing that it would result in an increase in the assessed valuation of their land.

The commission ordered the county council's office to draw up an amendment to the ordinance to allow billboards in the "commercial areas" in the unclassified districts.

This met with disapproval of the staff which wisely wants no tinkering with the ordinance. It didn't look so well to the planners themselves after they went into a committee meeting, so they told the staff to go on with their zoning plans and present them at the March 29 meeting, meanwhile holding hearings in San Ardo and Bradley to find out how serious is the objection to precise zoning in those areas.

"We're simply exploring," says Evans, "looking for the best way of enforcement without jeopardizing the ordinance."

Such goes on! At the planning commission meeting yesterday City Attorney John Morse said that
